Towering opposition

Woombye rallies against proposed 40m high facility

WOOMBYE residents have united in signing a submission opposing a telecommunications tower proposed for near the town centre.

The response follows a campaign by Woombye Community and Business Association (WCBA) to ensure the community was aware of the proposal and calling on them to submit signed submissions opposing the facility proposed for 1-9 Campbell Street.

Some 330 submissions were handed in to Council's Development Services counter by last Friday's deadline, with more submitted by email.

The matter was first raised at a WCBA General Meeting, followed by a Saturday information street stall and a Special Meeting last Tuesday. In the three hours at the Saturday stall 142 submissions were signed, 55 percent by township residents, the remainder from the surrounding district and outside visitors. In the following six days a further 188 submissions were signed, 85 percent were township residents.

WCBA Vice President Grant Palethorpe said the WCBA set out to keep the issue local. "These types of applications are very topical and easy to get radio and TV media to sensationalise the story," he said. "Aside from one story in an earlier edition of the Sunshine Valley Gazette the WCBA did not seek widespread media coverage.

"Keeping it local rather than inflating numbers from a wide area was the aim. The submission focused on the impact on our local residents, as well as the effect on local businesses and sporting clubs."

The submission said the telecommunications tower would be in conflict with the strategic framework of Sunshine Coast Council's planning scheme which is intended to ensure only appropriate development occurs.

Mr Palethorpe said the 40 metre high tower would unduly impact on the amenity and landscape values of the area.

The submission objects on several grounds including visual amenity, heritage and safety, he said.

Friday was the end of the notification period. Mr Palethorpe expected a decision from Council by mid to late January.

"Council planning staff will now continue their assessment, and hopefully reach a decision to not support this approval."

He said the community had provided strong grounds upon which Council should reject the proposal. The public notification period is an important stage in Council's assessment process.

Submitters who lodged a "properly made" submission retain appeal rights against the final decision. "To collect 330 submissions in a seven day period is testament to how Woombye responded to a totally inappropriate location," Mr Palethorpe said.

The submission focused on planning merit and inconsistencies with the planning scheme. "A 40m tower located immediately adjacent to town does not minimise the visual impact and amenity of a significant number of residents, especially those in Cary, Hill, Campbell Streets & Paynter Park Drive," the submission says.

The submission says Telecommunications Facility Code AO1 required a separation distance of 400m from a telecommunications tower. Whereas 100 residential dwellings were within 400m of the proposed site. Of those, 50 were within 300m and the closest was only 80m from the tower.

"This application conflicts with multiple aspects of the planning scheme. The planning scheme is the mechanism that communities place trust in to ensure development is appropriate."

Win tickets to Fight Night at the Crushers

THE last showman, Queensland's legendary Fred Brophy, is calling out local challengers for his boxing tent coming to Nambour this weekend at Crusher Park.

Nambour Rugby League Club spokesperson Wendy Turner said interest was high with many would-be challengers putting up their hand to duke it out with Brophy's best.

"Quite a few locals have contacted the club in the hope of getting in the ring and having a go," said Wendy. "People putting their name down saying it's been on their bucket list for years. One guy said he tried to get a fight at Kilcoy a few years ago but missed out because there were too many contenders. So he is throwing his hat in the ring this weekend in the hope of a stoush."

Thursday 28th October is a 'Come and Chat with Fred' evening at the clubhouse from 7pm. He will be joined by local boxing identity Darren Obah and there will be plenty of interesting stories shared with the audience. Cost is $30 per person for a two-hour package including nibbles and refreshments.

Friday and Saturday (29 & 30 October) will see Fred's big boxing marquee set up on the footy field. Gates open from 6pm with canteen and bar facilities available. Cost is $40 per night.

► To win a double pass to Friday night's boxing simply 'Like' Nambour Rugby League Club's Facebook page and comment on the Friday night event 'Win with Sunshine Valley Gazette'. Winner will be contacted by Thursday at 5pm. Otherwise, tickets can be purchased by calling the club on 0436 381 404. Tickets will also be available at the ticket office.

The Australian Chamber Music Collective includes Courtenay Cleary on violin, Samuel Andrews on violin, Nicole Greentree on viola and Louise King on cello.

Small Hall concert returns to Eudlo

YOU wouldn't expect a small hall in Eudlo to be the home of fine classical music outside of Brisbane. But this unassuming country hall has been the unlikely venue for a staggering collection of music events over the past 15 years.

"The fast-growing Sunshine Coast population means there is a huge demand for professional classical music events that showcase our local venues, our small halls and that celebrate our homegrown talent," says Louise King the Eudlo resident who curates the special events which bring hinterland audiences close to Australia's dynamic artists and chamber ensembles.

Her special guest artists from The Australian Chamber Music Collective will stage a concert on Sunday November 14 at 3pm in Eudlo Hall.

"Eudlo Hall is renowned for its country charm, stunning acoustics and warm local hospitality," said Louise who likes to challenge the myth that professional classical music can only be experienced in Brisbane.

"We have a wealth of musical talent in this region and I love to support it," she said. "The shut down of the arts industry due to the pandemic has been devastating to small independent live music events like this. I am excited to finally begin bringing concerts back to my community."

The Australian Chamber Music Collective

is a new cohort of innovative contemporary classical musicians who share a passion for chamber music and believe that music is best shared up close and personal in private house concerts, small halls and unusual spaces.

"The artists actively seek new and unusual ways to engage listeners to classical music," says Louise. "Together they shine a bright light on the future of classical music. Music-making with friends and having the opportunity to share this with an audience who enjoy live music, is at the core of every concert program I curate."

About the 'Death & The Maiden' Concert
The program celebrates the drama and lyricism of the string family – the violin, viola and cello - with intimate and gripping duos by Greek-French composer Iannis Xenakis, English pastoralist Rebecca Clarke and French composer Darius Milhaud, culminating with the exhilarating string quartet "Death & The Maiden" by Franz Schubert. The Sunshine Coast Youth Orchestra Crescendo Quartet will be support act.

► Tickets for the November 14 concert can be purchased online via events.humanitix.com (search for Death & The Maiden). A cash bar, grazing platters, home-made cakes, and tea & coffee will be available to purchase.

Nambour Yandina United Football Club Women's Premier League team celebrates grand final glory.

Rychvalsky powers NYU to historic championship

NAMBOUR Yandina United Women's Premier League team created history last Friday (October 15) becoming the club's first Premier team to win a grand final.

Played in Caloundra in the fog and in front of a Red Army of supporters they won the McDonald's Women's Premier League decider 3-nil against Sunshine Coast FC Fire.

Coach Matt Croskerry said winning the first championship in the club's history made the occasion extra special. "The injuries definitely hurt us in the second half of the season but credit to the girls, they never stopped working or believing and they got their reward for the last couple years of good progress."

Croskerry said mentality was a big focus for the team going in to the final. "We spoke about not getting drawn in to the occasion and just playing the same brand of football that got us to the final in the first place. We knew Fire are a tough physical side, can defend really well and can be dangerous if given the space. Our game plan was to press high player-to-player and try and put all the pressure on them to force the mistake high up the field. We knew there'd be opportunities and when they came our attackers were clinical with all 3 goals being superb finishes."

Jasmine Evans scored a thunder volley while Kiara Rychvalsky scored 2 excellent long-range strikes. Rychvalsky was named Player of the Final.

"Our back-line was resolute and kept the chances for Fire really limited. It was the first clean sheet we've had against Fire all season so they did really well."

Croskerry said the win was a special moment for the players many of whom had never won a grand final.

"It really capped off a fantastic year for NYU with so many teams making the finals or winning their leagues, it's fantastic to see."

While the club ticked off a few 'firsts' this year they will now look to make that success sustainable.

"We will lose a few players to university and other commitments next year, but it's an exciting opportunity to bring in fresh faces. We've got some good young players coming through who deserve a chance and I think we may pick up 1 or 2 from elsewhere in the league."

He said the team appreciated the support it received from the Red Army. "Wherever we go, we always have the best support."

Rychvalsky scored 19 goals in the regular season and slotted a penalty to help secure the grand final spot.

She was Sunshine Coast Football's highest goal scorer for Premier Women in 2021.

Then in her first ever Premier Ladies grand final, at just 17, Rychvalsky scored two out of the three goals and assisted the third and was named player of the final.

In other grades the Women's Premier League Reserves were runners up, as were the 4th Division Gold.

Kicking Goals for Malia

Nambour Yandina United Football Club held a Cystic Fibrosis Fundraiser on Saturday. The Kicking Goals for CF event supported Cystic Fibrosis Queensland who help people like young Malia Prickett, pictured above with Uncle Sean Prickett. "People giving up their time to support the event is a big deal for the family and shows the spirit and generosity of this great club," said Sean. See more football news in sport.

Ken Mills Toyota raises $120k for Morcombe Foundation

KEN Mills Toyota's major annual fundraiser, Millsy's Pop-Up Restaurant, has raised $120,000 for the Daniel Morcombe Foundation.

"Our target was $75,000," said dealer principal Brett Mills. "That's the amount needed for the Foundation to be able to create a 'Choose Your Own Adventure' resource to help children recognise, react to and report online grooming. We were overwhelmed to have exceeded that amount."

"From the bottom of our hearts: thank you to all our staff volunteers, our guests and their incredible generosity, our suppliers and partners, Capelli Foods, our sponsors and our amazing Ambassadors." Bruce and Denise Morcombe described the evening as a magnificent experience.

"The generosity of all attending was something Denise and I will never forget," said Bruce.

"We will not let you down. We guarantee to produce a high quality child safety adventure that will make a difference."

"An evening that simply surpassed all our expectations. Millsy's Pop-Up Restaurant will make a huge difference in keeping kids safe."

Plein Air Painters embrace the great outdoors

THIS week, a huge event has been happening around the Sunshine Coast.

The Sunshine Coast Plein Air Paint Out consists of artists from around Australia arriving on the Sunshine Coast to join together to paint around our beautiful area for a week.

This is normally held in conjunction with the Yandina Fair in August but with Covid and other factors, it was rescheduled for October 25 to 29.

"Then for the month of November, our wonderful Ginger Factory have offered their facility for an exhibition of those works," said Publicity Officer Barbara Brown.

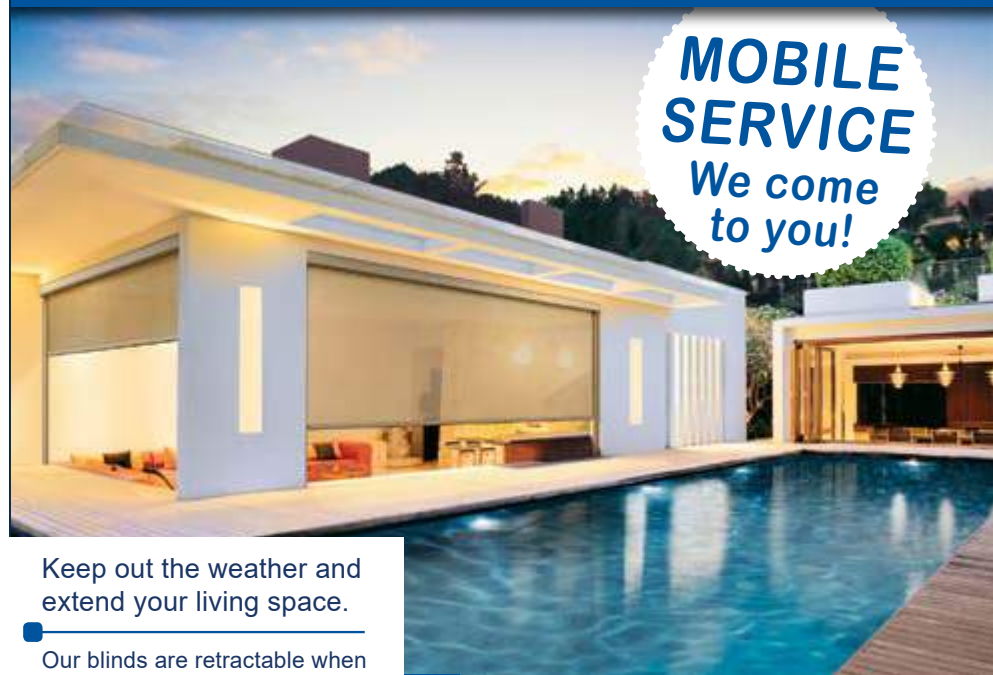

The official opening is on Thursday 4 November at 3pm in the Ginger Factory Train Shed. Long term supporter Rosanna Natoli will be judging, speaking and awarding prizes for best paintings. Also, attending will be Dan Purdie MP along with our sponsors and local businesses.

Maudie, centre, celebrated with family and friends, including Noelene (holding balloons). A group of 120 prep students and their teachers from The Good Samaritan College at Bli Bli sang "Happy Birthday" to her. Maudie received greetings and cards from friends and Local MP Ted O'Brien, the PM Scott Morrison, the Governor General and the Queen. She was able to Face Time her son Kevin in Thailand so he could be a part of his mother's celebrations.

Maudie celebrates 100 years, a great life, with an old friend

Inviting country, warm friendship kept them close

NOELENE Hughes and Maudie Garvey met in a little town in Canada in the 1960s. Last week the old friends, who have stayed close all these years later, celebrated Maudie's 100th birthday with friends in Nambour and Marcoola.

"We've known each other for nearly 60 years," said Noelene. "We met in Canada and we're still living in the same area but on the other side of the world. There were big plans for her children to come and celebrate the centenary with Maudie but, of course, that's all gone by the wayside because of travel restrictions. We thought 'she can't sit out there at Woombye on her birthday' so we've organised a couple of special events for her."

Friends arranged for lunch get-togethers at Nambour and at Marcoola Surf Club.

Maudie was born in England on October 22, 2021 and enjoyed a globe-trotting early life living in exotic countries and cities including Canada, Bombay, Madras, Singapore, Kenya, Mombasa, Durban, Wellington NZ and Nassau.

In the 1960s Maudie and her husband Pat and children Marilyn and Kevin arrived in Gold River on the west Coast of Vancouver Island in British Columbia. As they settled into their new home, Maudie got a job teaching at the new Gold River Elementary School.

"It was one of the first open plan schools at the time and where I first met her," said Noelene. "We became great friends from then on and I even got to teach Kevin in Grade 1."

The new town was the first all-electric town in Canada and was carved out of the forest.

"Later I moved to Australia with my family and bought a property on the Sunshine Coast," said Noelene. "Maudie and her family came shortly afterwards. She and Pat bought a chicken farm at Eudlo and Maudie got a job teaching at Coolum State School. Imagine her surprise when she walked into her new classroom to find one of her pupils from Gold River, was now a pupil in her class on the other side of the world! The student, Bonnie, and her family had also decided to come to the beautiful Sunshine Coast."

When her marriage ended Maudie and the children moved back to England and she taught for around 12 years. Later Maudie was drawn back to Australia to live and settled in Sydney near Marilyn. However the lure of the Sunshine Coast enticed Maudie back and she bought a house in Nambour surrounded by the country and friends she loved.

"Maudie joined many clubs here and also took classes at Retirement Villages to share her knowledge of Tai Chi with the residents," Noelene said.

"After suffering a fall, plans were made by the family for Maudie to move to Woombye Care where she has received wonderful attention from the outstanding staff there."

Happy Birthday Maudie, you deserve all of the accolades we can heap on you for an interesting life shared with so many people.

Guard injured, charges laid

SUNSHINE Coast detectives have charged a man with armed robbery and robbery with personal violence after a security guard was allegedly assaulted and alcohol stolen at Nambour on October 13.

Around 2.30pm October, a man entered a Mill Lane store and allegedly stole several bottles of alcohol. A security officer was alerted to the incident and located the man in a nearby car-park.

The man allegedly produced an edged weapon, threatened the 60-year-old security officer and ran off.

Members of the community led the officer to a nearby park where the man allegedly ran at the officer, knocking him off his feet. The man allegedly repeatedly kicked the man until he was chased off by members of the public.

Police located the man a short time later and took him into custody. The Kulangoor man was denied police bail and was due to appear in the Maroochydore Magistrates Court recently.

The security guard sustained minor injuries.

School Trivia Night

BLACKALL Range Independent School P&F are excited to open their November 5 fundraising Trivia Night to the community. "Our first Trivia Night in 2019 was a great success and after having to postpone it over the past two years, we are looking forward to this fun family-friendly event," said P&F President, Tracey Sims. "There will be categories and questions for the whole family, with extra brain teasers and hands-on games to keep everyone entertained. There are loads of prizes up for grabs, with a raffle running on the night and a kids activity area to keep the little ones busy."

"The ticket includes free tea and coffee, served by our students and each table brings their own delicious food. We encourage each table to create a theme and dress-up, because there are prizes to be won!"

► The Trivia Night is at Kureelpa Hall. Contact pandfbris@gmail.com or call 0418 827 349 to book tickets and register your team.

Unique & Contemporary Abstract

Carley Bourne

Carley Bourne is a successful artist, working from her home studio space in Noosaville and taking inspiration from the natural beauty of her surroundings.

The tropical coastal area, florals and botanicals excite her imagination. Carley enjoys working mostly with acrylics, creating large scale artworks on canvas.

With a free, fanciful and intuitive way which allows her artistic visions to flow, with form, marks, colour and patterns, her work is mostly botanical or floral based, with a very unique and contemporary abstract style that flow, soothe, excite or entice the viewer.

Eudlo Store gets makeover, seeks recipe for perfect pie

HIS team have mastered Asian street food and bistro fare and now renowned local restaurateur Tony Kelly believes they have discovered the recipe for the perfect pie which will be available exclusively at his latest venture, the refurbished Eudlo General Store.

Mr Kelly along with his business partner Dirk Long and hospitality industry stalwart Luke Stringer are the team behind the recently redeveloped Eudlo General Store which has serviced the local community since 1925.

"I'm really excited by this new venue, I love Eudlo and Dirk is a former resident of the town and he's always had his eye on redeveloping the building and giving it a modern twist while still providing the essential general store services including locally sourced produce, freshly baked goods, ice, swap and go gas, firewood and hay.

"What I work on with my hospitality ventures is to ensure they are all famous for at least one thing, and after discovering the recipe for the 'Holy Grail' of pies, I am sure the Eudlo General Store will be famous for great coffee and mastering the simplicity of beautiful house made pies.

"We have been working on perfecting the pastry for the pies for quite a while and I really believe it's the best pie I have ever tasted. The base has a nice texture and crunch and the top is flaky like a croissant while the inside will be filled with delicious sticky beef cheeks slow cooked in red wine. "We'll also have other amazing pies including chicken, leak and baby peas as well as lamb and rosemary which all be available in traditional as well as family size to take away," Tony said.

Mr Long said the second stage of the redevelopment would include a curated outdoor dining area featuring a large rotisserie and wood fired pizza oven which is due to open in early 2022.

"We are aiming to have the outdoor area open from Friday to Sunday night and will be ideal for families and friends to get together for some wood fired pizza or a slice or two from the pig on the spit over a cold beer while listening to live music.

"Over the years, the Eudlo General Store has been an essential meeting place for people to catch up, buy some essentials, enjoy a bite to eat or even get married out the back. We really feel we've done the building and its heritage justice and we can't wait for the local community to enjoy what we have to offer," Dirk said.

► The Eudlo General Store will be open seven days a week from 7am until 5pm. Up to eighteen locals will be employed full and part time when it opens in mid-November.

Walk for Daniel this Friday from 6am

THE 17th annual Walk for Daniel will take place this Friday October 29 from 6am. The walk is about 4 kilometres long, starting at Suncoast Christian College in Woombye and finishing at Briggs Park in Palmwoods.

Due to COVID-19, all participants will need to register to participate in Walk for Daniel this year and all COVID restrictions will be adhered to.

This is a very significant and symbolic event, so it was important to the Foundation and to Bruce and Denise that the event continue in a COVID-Safe manner.

"Yes the event is on this year, it is free, you just need to go to our website and register to attend, so please come and join us," said Bruce Morcombe.

"This is my favourite day of the year and our Walk is the most memorable event," said Denise. "We wear red in memory of Daniel".

This year we are pleased to announce that Walk for Daniel is proudly supported by BOQ Maroochydore. BOQ Maroochydore are avid supporters of the Foundation. Nicholas Barker

Manager of BOQ Maroochydore has a very strong focus on keeping kids safe, keeping families safe and keeping communities safe on the Sunshine Coast.

The Daniel Morcombe Foundation held the first Walk for Daniel in November 2005.

It is held annually in Palmwoods. The walk follows the same path Daniel walked from Palmwoods to Nambour Connection Road in Woombye, where he waited for the bus to the Sunshine Plaza before being abducted. It symbolises a trip home Daniel was not able to complete. The Walk for Daniel is also the opening event of our national child safety education and awareness day – Day for Daniel.

It is estimated over 1.5 million people across Australia will participate in Day for Daniel this year. This includes over 5,500 schools and hundreds of businesses, public and private events.

► Parents, teachers and carers can visit the Daniel Morcombe Foundation website for resources and information on how to keep kids safe.

Nambour Tattoo studio moves to larger premises

A tattoo parlour is expanding its operations after receiving significant support from the local community.

After five years trading in Nambour's thriving Short Street, Seven Seas Tattoo Co is moving into bigger premises.

But the family business's new location won't be hard for regulars to find. It's only shifting two doors down to 29 Short Street.

The business is run by husband and wife Ben & Mindy Mountseer who saw an opportunity to expand after a recent reshuffle of the street's occupants.

"The perfect opportunity arose for us to move shops into a larger building and help us to grow our business and take on more tattoo artists," said Ben. "We see Nambour as a great town that just needs a bit of love."

Ben said Ignite Church purchased the block of buildings and was expanding its Short Street church. At the same time the pawnbrokers closed after 10 years in business.

"Nambour has been a great town for us and we have received a lot of local support," said Mindy. "We love seeing other local small family run businesses thriving."

"We wanted to open a new bigger and better store and we have put a lot of time, effort and planning into making our shop look appealing," said Mindy. "From bright colours on the walls, floor to ceiling artwork, hand painted signage and a new sparkly black floor. We will also be redoing our graffiti wall mid November."

"With a bigger shop we are able to have more tattoo artists & guest artists and continue to bring top quality tattooing to Nambour," said Ben.

► Seven Seas Tatto Co is at 29 Short Street Nambour. Phone 5476 2777 or sevenseastattoo@gmail.com.

Denture Care Group says book soon to ensure a smiley Christmas

AS Christmas fast approaches, the experienced team at the Denture Care Group are encouraging those with dentures to book their appointments sooner rather than later.

"We see the same pattern every year around this time," said owner, Aaron Pryor. "People come to see us in mid December, hoping to have their prosthetics back in time for Christmas. We always aim for a fast turnaround and we have a laboratory onsite, but what people don't realise is that for a full set of upper or lower dentures, it can take up to 6 visits to complete the process and ensure that the dentures are fitting comfortably. At the end of the day, quality and comfort are the most important things."

For those with Private Health insurance, the team at the Denture Care Group can also help to make the most out of your cover.

"Some funds run on a calendar year, so it is worthwhile getting prosthetics sorted now, rather than waiting until December to ensure that patients are maximising their health fund benefits," Aaron explained. "We can also advise our clients how to make the most of their fund's benefits for those that run to a financial year calendar."

The Denture Care Group has conveniently located clinics in Caloundra, Maleny and Woombye. No dental referral is necessary. To book your appointment, call 5491 2288.

Man charged after Walk for Daniel banner vandalised

A 78-year-old man has been issued with a Notice to Appear for four counts of wilful damage after a number of Walk For Daniel banners were vandalised outside Woombye State School between October 7-9.

It will be alleged the man graffitied and damaged multiple banners using paint and poured oil over a pathway. He is due to appear in Maroochydore Magistrates Court on November 25. Police have CCTV footage of the vandalism.

His actions caused the Morcombe family great distress.

"The disgraceful actions of this person are a disrespectful attack on our murdered son," said Bruce Morcombe.

Local couple chooses St Margaret's for return to a traditional wedding

SARAH Elizabeth Mangino and Brett William Stone were married at St Margaret's Church Woombye last Saturday (October 16) in front of family and friends.

In a nod to traditional values the couple opted for a small, Christian marriage. "We wanted an intimate wedding for a small number of guests," said Sarah.

Sarah is a registered nurse and her family have lived in Woombye for many years, while Brett has owned Palmwoods Vet practice for the past 23 years.

"We feel a genuine connection to the community, especially Brett," said Sarah. "It's a beautiful little church which reflected my desire for a traditional wedding and reminded me of my childhood church. St Margaret's is quite an historical church on the Sunshine Coast.

"Reverend Ralph Bowles and the Anglican parish of Nambour and surrounds were very accommodating of our differing but similar faiths."

Brett is protestant while Sarah is a Catholic. The couple invited Pastor Tim Peters from Calvary church to pray a blessing.

Join the Ride for Chappy

RIDE for Chappy is a unique event being conducted by the Maleny High School Chaplaincy Committee as a fundraiser for the Maleny High chaplain, Donna Turner. Money is raised to support Donna's work in providing services and running programs for students.

It's a trail ride and "come try" day to be held on Saturday 30 October 2021 at 11 Bretons Road, Crohamhurst (off Bald Knob Road, 20 minutes from Maleny, Landsborough or Peachester).

Various activities will take place between 9am and 5pm. The Sunny Coast Trail Horse Riders Club has volunteered to lead horse trail rides and welcomes all trail riders, especially riders that have never tried trail riding before. Young, old, or in between - you are all welcome to bring your own horse and come try trail riding on a beautiful property that is being opened exclusively for this event.

There is also a mini-clinic on horse handling, demonstrating how to be safe on and off the horse plus two sessions of 'dressing up' and caring for your horse. For the non-riders, there will be guided bushwalks through a beautiful forested area, incorporating a local history talk about the old Crohamhurst School and about Inigo Jones, the well known and sometimes controversial long range weather forecaster.

You won't go hungry as there's a scrumptious sausage sizzle, drinks, snacks and a proper coffee van

Please tell your friends and spread the news about this exciting, exclusive and unique event.

► For all enquiries on costs etc or to pre-register, contact Chris Bourne, Secretary, Chaplaincy Committee by email: genconnexq@gmail.com or phone/text on: 0428 176 557.

Brendan Chan and Aaron Borg are converting The Village Pickle dining area into a record shop for the week-long residency from October 30.

Records added to the menu at popular Nambour restaurant

TWO Nambour businesses are joining forces for a week-long celebration of music and food.

The Village Pickle is set to host a retail residency of record shop Bad Habit Records from Saturday 30 October.

The pop-up shop will feature a broad selection of new and secondhand records, tapes, CDs and T-shirts from Australian and international artists.

Owners of The Village Pickle Jaimi Crocker and Brendan Chan said they were excited to be converting their indoor dining area into a record shop for the week-long residency.

"It's going to attract a new crowd to visit us and will add something new for our regulars to experience - it's a win-win," Ms Crocker said.

The plan for the pop-up residency was hatched with Bad Habit Records Owner Aaron Borg, who is a regular customer and has previously performed live DJ sets at the Village Pickle.

"The place has a great atmosphere and is the perfect setting for people to get together, enjoy a beer and a sandwich and browse through records," Mr Borg said.

"We specialise in underground punk and metal but have a broad range of other stuff."

► The Village Pickle is located at 95 Blackall Tce and is open 8am to 3pm Tuesday and Wednesday, 8am to 8pm Thursday and Friday and 10am to 4pm on Saturday and Sunday. Bad Habit Records can be found most Thursdays at Nambour Village Square Market and Saturdays at Yandina Markets, as well as online at badhabitrecords.com.au.

Sundale vows to 'redefine aged care'

SUNDALE is about to embark on a $247M journey that it says will completely redefine aged care on the Sunshine Coast.

Backed by independent research, consumer analysis and the recent outcomes of the Royal Commission, Sundale says its strategic plan will transform the organisation in the coming decade.

It aims to deliver unparalleled care and provide retirees and care recipients with transformational services.

Chairperson Troy Wainwright said five Sundale sites would be transformed.

"Underpinning the transformation at Sundale is the consumer, be they care recipients, residents or In-Home Care clients," Mr Wainwright said.

"Irrespective of their care needs, Sundale will have a solution and provide everything from medical, respite and dementia care and support to home maintenance, cleaning, transport and a range of emotional, social and wellbeing services."

Mr Wainwright said Sundale was the only provider on the Sunshine Coast to offer aged care and retirement living on the same site.

"This continuum of care focus will be further strengthened in the coming years to offer retirees a life-long home, irrespective of their changing needs," he said.

Residents stroll the grounds at Sundale's Palmwoods Garden Village Retirement Community.

Key points

- 10-year strategic plan, implemented in phases.
- Five new accommodation models will be introduced including Care Apartments, Independent Living Units, Independent Living Apartments and Care Cottages.
- Construction will begin at Nambour Garden Village in 2022 and at Tewantin in early 2023.

- Expansion of In-Home Care team and services.

- There will be no forced job losses.

- Sundale is a community-based, not for profit, retirement and care centre organisation that supports the needs of its community via outstanding care and assistance services.

Buderim Ginger to unveil mural by local artist to celebrate 80 years

BUDERIM Ginger, one of the region's best-loved and most established businesses celebrates 80 years tomorrow (Thursday October 28) with the launch of a mural at The Ginger Factory depicting the history of Buderim Ginger.

The 6-metre, original mural has been created at the front entrance of the Ginger Factory by local artist Maxine Stibbe. It will be presented by Buderim Ginger CEO Andrew Bond at 10am.

Buderim Ginger has a long and rich history in the region. It was established in 1941 when raw ginger found its way to the Sunshine Coast, thriving in the rich volcanic soil. When the Second World War cut ginger supply from China, sales of Buderim Ginger soared.

It was around this time that five farmers met together in the old blacksmith shop in Buderim and formed the Buderim Ginger Grower's Co-operative Association that evolved into the Buderim Ginger brand we know today. By the 1990s Buderim Ginger had become a global brand producing ginger for markets around the world including Australia, the UK, Germany, USA, Japan, New Zealand and Singapore.

There have been many highlights along the way including a visit by Princess Diana and Prince Charles in the 1980s, the opening of The Ginger Factory tourist attraction in 1985 and more recently, the opening of The Gruffalo Trail which has delighted thousands of visitors to The Ginger Factory since it opened last year.

► To celebrate this historic milestone, celebrations will be held at The Ginger Factory, 50 Pioneer Road, Yandina Thursday 28 October, from 10am. A collage of historical photos will be on display as will an original uniform of Buderim Ginger factory workers.

Peter Boyce ... "it's a privilege to be able to contribute".

Prominent lawyer donates $25,000 to Wishlist charity

PROMINENT Nambour lawyer Peter Boyce has thrown his support behind health foundation Wishlist's drive to raise $2 million by 2022 for their major project, Wishlist Centre.

Through his Nambour-based business, Butler McDermott Lawyers, Mr Boyce has donated $25,000 to become a Haven Room Donor – equivalent to 1,250 Virtual Bricks.

Wishlist Centre will be Australia's first facility to offer affordable patient accommodation, primary healthcare and complementary therapies under one roof, and is currently under construction opposite the Sunshine Coast University Hospital (SCUH).

"Wishlist recently launched their Donate a Virtual Brick appeal which we can all get behind with each virtual brick costing just $20," Mr Boyce said.

"Wishlist's existing accommodation Reed House and Wishlist House is seeing increased occupancy rates, especially with rural and remote patients needing to travel to SCUH for medical treatment.

"The need for this type of centre in close proximity to the hospital is essential and I think it's a privilege to be able to contribute to our community."

Terry celebrates amazing life

Terry Hedley Burchell Butcher born October 31, 1931, centre, with his daughter Sasha and son-in-law Benno and about 50 guests who celebrated at Flaxton Gardens on Sunday.

HE'S fixed historic clocks, mixed with royalty and restored antiques for famous politicians. Now globe-trotting engineer, Terry Butcher, calls Flaxton home. On Sunday he celebrated his 90th birthday with his family and about 50 guests and looked back on an amazing life.

Born in Perth to an Irish mother and Australian father Terry recalls a privileged upbringing as his father managed the Perth newspaper.

They moved to Sydney in 1934 and this was the first time he was able to cross the famous Sydney Harbour Bridge. That crossing turned in to a life-long interest and Terry has a huge collection of bridge memorabilia to this day.

Terry went to England in 1954 and worked for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation as a film projectionist where he became friends with Australian actor Errol Flynn.

Around this time Terry was asked to show Prince Philip the new colour projection camera and the Prince was extremely interested in it and they both enjoyed the meeting. In 1961

Terry and his wife Jackie and son Rolf moved back to Australia, and Terry was working for Shell Australia. One of his jobs was to tour NSW showing a black and white movie, produced by Shell, called "The Back of Beyond". He was asked to show the then-Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies a private viewing at his home.

Terry also worked on Australia's oldest clock at Hyde Park Barracks in Macquarie street in Sydney. He became the first man to stop the clock since it was erected there in 1819.

He bought the a home in Redfern – which housed a stable and a ball room and allowed him to work on restoring antique furniture.

His customers would visit him at his home. They included Prime Ministers Paul Keating and Bob Hawke, Governor General Bill Hayden and NSW Premier Neville Wran to name a few.

Terry made his final move to Flaxton in September last year for the warmer climate and to be near his daughter Sasha and son-in-law Benno Fenger. Terry's birthday party was held at Flaxton Gardens on Sunday (October 24).

Yandina Heritage walk brings history to life

YANDINA & District Historical Society Inc volunteers Debbie Collier and Pat Cordwell hosted the Sunshine Coast Openhouse Heritage Tour Walk on Sunday (October 24).

In fitting with the theme Debbie donned her 1870s and Pat in 1900s outfits which had been made specially for the Yandina 150th Anniversary celebrations earlier this year.

The walk was very popular and booked out quickly.

The tour started from the Anglican Church built 1881 at 3 Farrell St and continued to the School of Arts Hall built 1916. It proceeded down Stevens St where Tom Rutherford Bakery was in the 1900s and Maylon and Nichols General Store in the 1930s.

It also took in the old Post Office site now occupied by Yandina CWA, George Best Senior's Butcher Shop and ES&A Bank which opened a branch in Stevens Street 1909.

The tour continued across to the Yandina Hotel which has been operating from site since 1891, the Cenotaph built in 1924, the Railway Station opened January 1 1891 and then headed back up Stevens Street to McNab Merchant and Excelsior House built by W. Lanham in 1909.

Finally it continued onto the corner of Stevens & Farrell Street and told the story of Michael O'Shea's General Store (1891) with current building built in the 1930s.

Glenn Shorrock

Hang on, help is on its way ... Look who's coming to Maleny

THE inaugural Maleny Long Lunch, coming to the Maleny Showgrounds Pavillion this Sunday (October 31), will feature Glenn Shorrock.

With a career that spans five decades, Glenn's catalogue of hits include lead vocals for Twilights, Axiom and The Little River Band, as well as a stellar solo career.

Patrons can expect to hear some of Glenn's biggest hits from his career including Help Is On Its Way, Cool Change, Little Ray of Sunshine and many more.

The Maleny Long Lunch will donate profits from the bar on the day to the Wishlist Centre, which will be Australia's first facility to offer patient accommodation, primary healthcare and complementary therapies under one roof.

The Long Lunch is the brainchild of the guys from Almost The Greatest Events: Ian 'Dicko' Dickson, Dave Wilkins & Tony Aitken. Born out of lockdown fever, the guys joined forces to create a regular event that incorporated some of the great things in life – great music, fabulous food and brilliant beers, wines and spirits. It was also important to bring on board a worthy local charity and give back to the community.

"We are thrilled to present Glenn Shorrock as special guest artist at our first Maleny Long Lunch," said Dicko. "We hope this event becomes a regular event on the Sunshine Coast calendar and encourage all Queenslanders to come along and enjoy the best of Australian talent, food and wines from across Australia. It also brings great joy to us as a team to be able to support Wishlist and the great work they do on the Coast."

Captain J Beard and his team from Beauty & The Beard will be serving up a mouth-watering feast, complimented by drinks, purchased over the bar and supplied by Bird In Hand wineries and beers by Your Mates Brewery.

Woombye's Sunshine and Sons will have an array of spectacular gin cocktails and non alcoholic options that can also be purchased over the bar. The afternoon's entertainment will kick off with rising singer / songwriter sensation Taylor Moss.

► The Maleny Long Lunch is on Sunday October 31 at The Pavilion, Maleny Showgrounds. Cost is $130 per ticket + booking fee from malenylonglunch.com or showticks.com.

Montville Art Sale to help Lions

PAINTINGS by four local artists will be on sale at the Lions Art Sale in Montville from November 12 to 15.

Artists Robyn Wight, Marianne Reardon, Nicole Ver Tuel and Diana O'Connor will work in pastel, acrylic, charcoal and lino cut prints on sale. All proceeds will go to the Lions Club of Blackall Range to support the work that they do in the community.

"With additional time to devote to painting during Covid, we all have an abundance of work on hand," Robyn said. "We are happy to support the community by donating the proceeds to the Blackall Range Lions."

Come along to Camphor Cottage and enjoy a delicious scone while enjoying the artworks.

Burnside Neighbourhood Watch Group

BURNSIDE Neighbourhood Watch Group will be holding their next meeting on Wednesday November 3.

It will be held in the Library/Resources Centre at Burnside State Primary School, Blandland Road, Nambour, starting at 7pm.

The guest speaker will be Coral McVean from The Stroke Foundation, with advice on how to help someone suffering a stroke episode.

We will also be holding our AGM which was delayed by the recent COVID lockdown, so annual reports will be received and a new committee for 2021/22 will be elected. QPS Liaison Officer, Matt Thornton will also attend.

Warren White and Jill Bingham: "We are extremely excited about the renovation of the Nambour gym and we can't wait to unveil it."

New Jetts owners plan complete gym overhaul

JETTS Nambour changed hands last week and new owners, Warren White and Jill Bingham are bringing experience and a passion for fitness and the Jetts model, to their members.

"We have been a part of the Jetts family for 12 years and we just love the model," said Warren.

"Both Jill and myself are personal trainers and we have previously worked for other clubs. But we felt really uncomfortable with the traditional model of lock in contracts," he said.

"Life tends to throw us all kinds of curve balls and sometimes people need to be able to easily cancel their membership. We have both experienced the distress and anger that inevitably occurs when people are not able to do this. It's awful for everyone involved."

"The Jetts model is just so fair and flexible. There are no lock-in contracts, so there is greater freedom for members. I think that is what people appreciate the most," he said. "We know that they also love the flexibility of being able to go to the gym, 24/7."

Jetts Gyms are Australian owned and the model was developed locally, in Mooloolaba.

"In our experience, this company attracts terrific, like minded people who are committed to helping members meet their health and fitness goals," Warren said. "We love being part of it."

Warren and Jill opened their first Jetts Gym in Peregrin Springs in 2009, and then another in Coolool in 2012. At the end of November, the couple will commence a complete refurbishment of the Nambour gym.

"We are extremely excited about the renovation of the Nambour gym and we can't wait to unveil it," said Warren.

"We will be replacing every piece of equipment and everything will be new and fresh. Our experience in this industry means that we have a really good feel for what is important to our members and we will be bringing that knowledge and experience to the Nambour gym. Now we get to meet our members, so there are lots of things to look forward to in the coming months."

Listen Up! Hearing Australia Bus coming to Nambour soon

THE Hearing Australia bus is stopping by Nambour and Maroochydore to offer free hearing checks and raise hearing health awareness in the local community.

With a 12-strong fleet of Hearing Australia buses, the mobile hearing service has provided over 175,000 free hearing checks in communities across Australia since the first bus service launched in 2009.

Hearing Australia buses travel around the country, not only visiting busy city centres, but also smaller regional towns where it might be difficult for people to get their hearing checked. The bus also stops by retirement villages and aged care facilities to make it easier for people to have their hearing checked.

The team at Hearing Australia want to help people take control of their hearing health and experience the joy of sound in all aspects of their life.

Healthy hearing is a big part of life. It keeps us connected to the people and life we love. Good hearing plays a significant role in helping people stay active, happy and involved in the world around them.

An estimated 3.6 million Australians are affected by hearing loss, and this is projected to more than double to 7.8 million by 2060, meaning nearly one in every five Australians will be affected.

A hearing check is a quick and easy way to help identify if your hearing might not be as sharp as it used to be.

As well as having a hearing check, visitors to the Hearing Australia bus can also find information on how to keep their hearing in good shape and view a display of easy-to-use hearing devices for around the home. This includes headsets for watching TV and alert systems for doorbells. Not everyone who is experiencing problems hearing may need a hearing aid. Sometimes people might just need support listening to the TV at normal volumes, hearing at noisy social events, or hearing their friends and family on the phone.

No appointment is necessary. Hearing Australia will provide hearing checks to any interested adults over 18 who visit the bus on the day. The Hearing Australia team is on hand to guide you through what your next steps may be to help you rediscover the sounds you love.

Nambour golf charity driving for inclusion & changing lives

AN innovative Nambour charity is in 'full swing' after opening the doors to a new mentoring space for people living with an intellectual disability.

Golf Programs Australia (GPAI) offer unique support services for people living with a disability which incorporates a private nine-hole golf course in Diddillibah alongside a brand-new social enterprise mentorship studio.

Member for Fairfax, Ted O'Brien said he was privileged to officially open the new facility, at the request of GPAI Founders Michelle and Darrell Dalton, following the support of a $15,000 Federal Government Grant which was matched dollar for dollar by the charity.

"I declare the Golf Programs Australia Social Enterprise Studio officially open for business," Mr O'Brien announced at the October 13 ribbon cutting ceremony. "With each swing of a club, the team here at Golf Programs Australia are driving inclusion, breaking isolation and changing the lives of local people in our community."

"I'm proud to support this exciting new chapter for the organisation, and I commend Darrell and Michelle for the fantastic community work that they do."

GPAI has been delivering weekly golf programs for people living with an intellectual disability, acquired brain injury or mental health challenges since 2014.

President of Golf Programs Australia Incorporated, Darrell Dalton said that their successful application for the Stronger Communities Grant was a big step for the Nambour charity.

"Ted encouraged us to apply for the grant, which we secured and it has enabled us to set up the most amazing space and everyone is very excited," Mr Dalton said.

"The new sub-basement studio has extended the charity's retail space opportunities which incorporates the sale of donated pre-loved golf equipment, donated furniture, a creative textile design area, containers for change recycling bay, golf simulator training area, inwards and outwards goods and more.

"We are so thankful for the incredible community support we have received including businesses such as Ken Mills Toyota Nambour, Eco Cottages Cooroy, Rosemount Auto Marine, Dave's Furniture Restoration, Crunch Forest Glen, Day & Grimes Real Estate, Nambour Upholstery, Yandina Hardware and Showcase Property Styling."

Nambour Op Shop Manager Lyn Mills is looking for volunteers ... "Just give us a ring or drop in if you're interested."

Bloomhill Op Shops put out urgent call for volunteers as Christmas rush approaches

ONE of the region's most respected charities is urgently seeking volunteer at its op shops, as the effects of Covid-19 restrictions continue to be felt across the hinterland.

Bloomhill Cancer Care provides personalised support to those touched by cancer, and lockdowns earlier this year brought a slump in sales as shops had to close.

Volunteer numbers have also dropped, causing concerns for the upcoming Christmas sales period, the most important time of the year for the retail sector including charity fundraising op shops.

Portia Curnow is Manager of Bloomhill Cancer Care Maleny Op Shop, and says the store urgently needs volunteers who can work Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. Bloomhill's Nambour store is also seeking volunteer help on Wednesdays and Fridays.

The Maleny op shop is Bloomhill's only secondhand store that's open seven days a week.

"Everyone who works here loves it, I personally enjoy the social aspect so much but also knowing all the funds we raise go toward supporting people with cancer," Portia said.

"Unfortunately a lot of people have been affected by cancer. Being creative with our donations and giving items a second lease of life is really fun. Maleny has terrific support from the community, and we are forever grateful for their donations of high quality goods, jewellery and for the money they give to Bloomhill. Every cent counts."

Nambour Op Shop Manager Lyn Mills said volunteers enjoyed working with each other and doing important work together.

"You can do pricing, counter work, ironing, sorting," she said. "You don't need to do a full day, we just need people to do what works for them. Just give us a ring or drop in if you're interested."

► Donate or register to volunteer here: www.bloomhill.com.au. To find out about volunteering talk to the op shop manager at your nearest store. Maleny: 5499 9516 or Nambour: 5476 1779.

F45 Gym soon to open in Nambour CBD

WOOMBYE'S Jacqueline Foster loved the training style so much she and her husband Alan decided to open Nambour's first F45 gym in Lowe Street. Jacqueline spoke to the Gazette about the fitness venture she hopes will help reinvigorate the CBD.

When do you think you'll open?

We are now aiming to start our soft openings in November. This is when our Foundation Members will get free access for 2 weeks to start training. It gives everyone a chance to get to know each other before our Grand opening.

What's your backstory with F45 training?

I became a member of F45 Maroochydore in 2019. This has been the first fitness concept that has changed my mindset on exercise. I have done gyms, classes PTs etc. But nothing has achieved the results or kept me motivated like F45. I found my fitness level increasing quite quickly and my body was adjusting to the new routine. It got me thinking about why we don't have our own F45 on the west side of the highway. This is when the seed was planted. An amazing business opportunity in such a positive industry, it just felt right. I could never try and push something that I didn't 100 percent believe in.

How did you choose the Lowe Street location?

The landlord knew who F45 was and I think they knew what a positive impact we could have on our community and the shopping centre. They have been very accommodating to get our Studio to meet the F45 standards. They have split the next door's tenancy for us to create a bigger space, lifted the ceilings for us, built showers and toilets for our members and put in new doors and security measures.

One of the biggest draws to the space was the huge car park out the back. We want our members to be able to zip in and zip out.

How is the membership take-up going?

We have had an amazing response from our community and surrounding businesses. We are about to hit 100 Foundation Members which is pretty amazing when our studio is not open yet. Our first release sold out in 4 hours!

F45 is a different model to mainstream gyms. Our member capacity is lower. We cap our class sizes to give our members a personal training experience, in a group fitness setting.

Jacqueline Foster in the Lowe Street space that will be Nambour's first F45 gym.

What type of person is the best fit for F45?

Everybody. From beginners to athletes. We focus on functional movements patterns which train your muscles to work together and allow you to perform your everyday activities with more ease. I have worked out with members up to age 75! F45 Training will result in body fat loss, building lean muscle, core stability and a happier healthier you!

We have trainers on the floor to help you with: Technique, alternative exercises, motivation and sometimes just a good chin wag. You can take it at your own pace or you can push yourself, it is all in your own hands.

Are you looking forward to energising that space?

This is what we are most looking forward to. Good vibes and positive energy is such a huge part of why I wanted to start an F45 and bring it into our community. This is a game changer for so many and we can't wait to be a part of this journey for our members. You join F45 to get fit, you stay with F45 for your new found fitness community.

How can people sign up?

Foundation Memberships are still available at f45training.com/nambour. As a Foundation Member you get the Best Value Membership which gives you a month-to-month contract (no long term commitment), Free access to sessions before the Grand Opening and a merchandise pack.

From Fantales and Jaffas to barefoot bowling ... it's all on at Family Fun Day

PALMWOODS Bowls Club celebrates turning 90 next month and will be kept busy with a week packed full of events – including, naturally, several bowling events.

Sunday November 14 will be the club's Family Fun Day which will be an exciting culmination of the celebrations for everyone to enjoy.

"Rock'n'Bowls" barefoot bowls is one of the great ways to enjoy this afternoon and there are no age restrictions," said club spokesperson Sue Robertson.

"It's loads of fun and no experience is required. The club will provide all the bowling equipment and help you may need. Best of all – it's free."

Sue said live music from the "Bamboo Rockets" would keep everyone entertained.

And what's a bowls club without raffles? "There will be plenty of opportunities to try your luck to win some prizes," said Sue.

Sue said Palmwoods Bowls Club shared its birthday with the arrival of Fantales, Freddo Frogs, Jaffas and Smiths Chips all of which will be available to snack on. "And if you're still hungry, there's always the sausage sizzle," she said.

"We hope everyone can make it."

For enquiries phone 5445 9190. The club thanks Sunshine Coast Council for its support. See Facebook or www.palmwoodsbowlsclub.com.au for more details.

Enrolments for 2022 now open

Nambour State College

WHEN it comes to your child's education, what are the things that matter most to you?

Is it the quality of teaching? The curriculum on offer? Your child being supported appropriately? These are just some of the things to consider. Educating our children is probably one of the most important decisions we'll make as parents and carers because it's one that will potentially have profound and, if we do our job right, hugely positive and long-lasting effects.

At Nambour State College, the education, enrichment and care of every child is our greatest priority. As an independent Prep – Year 12 school, we:

- embrace success in many forms;
- offer a diverse curriculum including specialist subjects;
- provide a range of unique and exciting excellence programs including our highly sought-after Nambour Academy of Creative Arts, renowned Pinnacle Program and successful volleyball and tennis programs.

Whether it's building a drone, playing your sport of choice, creating great art, studying agriculture on our working farm or debating real-world issues, success for us is about being creative, compassionate, collaborative, engaged, showing leadership, doing your best and building rich relationships.

Arrange a personal tour of the College

We would love to take you on a personal tour of our College so you can see first-hand why Nambour State College, the school of former Prime Minister Kevin Rudd and former Federal Treasurer Wayne Swan among other alumni, is the top pick for investing in your child's education and future.

Gerry Zwart, OAM tribute:

Memories flow after passing of popular Nambour man

by Laura Pettigrew, Sunshine Coast Daily

A gardening guru with a "heart for people" is being remembered for his jovial personality and tireless community service.

Gerry Zwart, 92, well-known for his community service in the Sunshine Coast hinterland, was remembered in Nambour on Friday, October 15, after he passed away on October 7.

Gerry's wife of 69 years Valerie said she couldn't imagine a life without him.

"The day we lost him was the worst day of my life, I really cannot think of anything that could have been worse," she said.

"But I've been blessed with him for a long time, so I can't complain about that, I thank the lord I had him for all that time."

The couple, who were sat next to each other at a carnival in a small Sydney seaside town, married three months after they meet in 1953 and were inseparable ever since.

"He was just my life partner we were very normal people we had arguments like others ... but we did agree on most things, the more important things," Valerie said.

"We had a good life."

After a brief holiday to the Sunshine State the pair fell in love with the region and retired to Mapleton in 1989 where they became very active in the community.

Shortly after moving to Mapleton the Zwarts joined Friends of the Library and were devastated when the community facility was destroyed by fire.

They held many fundraisers including jazz nights, car rallies and cake stalls to raise a record amount of money to provide the community with a freehold library.

The Zwarts were also instrumental in raising money for Mapleton Community Hall and campaigning to keep the Old School House for the community.

Gerry also served as the president of Mapleton and Districts Community Association, was a founding member of Montville Visitor Information Centre and in 2015 joined his wife as an OAM recipient.

Like Valerie, Gerry had a lifelong passion for gardening that started as a child helping his mother grow food for his 12 siblings in Nazi-ruled Holland.

After moving to Australia and getting married Gerry spent most of his working life in South Australia where he and Valerie worked at her brother and father's nursery.

He later became involved in the Sunshine Coast horticulture industry, ran the Plant Clinic at the Queensland Garden Expo for 15 years and along with Valerie wrote the Sunshine Coast Daily's weekly gardening column for many years.

"We were very blessed we had that life-time interest in gardening and we loved every minute of writing for the Daily," she said.

Work for the blind

Despite all his achievements Valerie believed Gerry's proudest accomplishment was his time working for the Blind Society and Home for Incurables in South Australia.

"He travelled thousands of kilometres letting people know, who weren't going to get better, that there was a home for them," she said.

"I was so proud of him, he had such heart for people. He genuinely cared."

Gerry was described by his niece Cheryl Zwart as a bit of a prankster who was always having a good time.

Valerie said she was blessed to have spent her life with Gerry and was looking forward to the day when she was reunited with him and their daughter, Anna, who passed away from cancer in 2019.

"He was an easy-going man ... he liked his jokes and a glass of wine when we got to the end of the day and we always had a few bottles tucked away so he could enjoy it," she said.

"We were very well matched, nobody knows if they are well matched when they get married and we were one of the very fortunate ones."

Honoured for saving Jews from Nazis in Holland

In 2019 Gerry accepted Israel's highest honour on behalf of his parents Marinus and Marie. They were posthumously honoured as Righteous Among the Nations for their bravery in hiding Jews in their house during the German occupation of Holland in World War Two.

Gerry, who was in his early teens at the time, was heavily involved in the dangerous work while he grew up in the Dutch village of Blaricum.

"If they had caught a few Jews in our house, we would get the same treatment as the Jews, which was [to be] sent off to the concentration camps," Gerry said last year.

Israeli man Lex Menco travelled to Australia to be at the 2019 ceremony. Mr Menco and his four sons would never have been born if not for the bravery of Gerry's family. The Zwarts hid his mother Bela during the Holocaust.

Gerry recalled fleeing with a mate from German soldiers who had captured them to work in the factories. "The Germans were yelling for us to come back and then they started shooting. You could hear the bullets hitting the trees around you," he told the Gazette last year.

Gerry's family saved at least five children. Bela van Praagh was one of them. She was three years of age when she was rescued and hidden. During the 2019 ceremony, Gerry and Bela (by video from Israel) shared recollections of their war years together as 'pretend' siblings.

Gerry was awarded an Order of Australia (OAM) in 2015 for his achievements and service to the community.

The Zwarts moved to Sanctuary Park Retirement Community in Nambour ten years ago.

He retained a quick wit and wonderful sense of humour. He was gentle, kind and generous with his time and knowledge.

Reading packs give kids a jump start

EACH year Heritage Palmwoods branch sponsors Palmwoods State School's starter pack of books to welcome new Prep students.

The 'sample bags' are full of reading goodness and include three quality pieces of literature for the children's first primary school reading books. One of the books is a modern children's literature book, the second an early learning mathematics book and the third an indigenous story.

Palmwoods State School Deputy Principal Craig Wockner said the starter packs provided enjoyable educational material that encouraged students to read.

Kay Nixon from The Little Book Nook said she was pleased to support the program.

"It's lovely to be able to contribute to such a wonderful initiative," she said. The starter packs were presented to families at Palmwoods State School's VIP Open Days held for kindy kids recently.

Mr Wockner asked parents who have children born between 1 July 2016 and 30 June 2017 and are yet to enrol their children, to contact the school to enrol now for the 2022 school year. Families residing outside the school zone are welcome to apply for exemption.

Meet new friends at Nambour Probus

PROBUS Clubs were first established in London in 1965 and were a club for Rotarians who were no longer involved in fundraising activities.

"At the time, it was an organisation for retired professional and business men to socialise with like minded people," said Probus Club of Nambour's publicity officer, Don McGlusky.

"The Probus Club charter is for 'fun, fellowship and friendship.'"

The first Probus clubs were for men only, but Nambour voted to allow women to join very early in the piece.

The Probus Club of Nambour was formed some 40 years ago and meets at the Yandina Masonic Hall in North Street Yandina every second Friday of each month.

"It is a great way to meet new friends with similar interests," Don said.

Monthly meetings consist of a short business meeting with a member speaking on a subject of interest, then morning tea followed by a guest speaker whose topics are wide and varied but of special interest particularly for the group.

"Our members enjoy a wide variety of activities including picnics to local parks and gardens in our area, get together at Nambour cafes for morning tea, visits to the Nambour movie theatre, and coach tours out to a wide variety of venues of special interest to our members," said Don.

"We recently made a nostalgic trip up to the Majestic Theatre at Pomona where we were entertained with a silent black and white movie accompanied by Ron West on the pipe organ."

Beersheba Day Parade

THE 2nd Light Horse Regiment, Woombye Troop will be holding its annual Beersheba Day Parade and Commemoration Service in Woombye on Sunday October 31. The Parade will start at 10am from Kustom Paints on the corner of Pine Grove Road, and proceed along Blackall St to the Cenotaph in Memorial Park.

Creeper's deceptive beauty won't fool Bushcarers

WHAT a beautiful weed! A Cat's Claw Creeper (Macfadyena unguis-cati) that we clearly missed at the Namba Creek BushCare site has colonised one of the old Camphor Laurel long stumps.

That's what they do to native bush, reach for the sun, look beautiful, and then smother all the surrounding native plants, thus ruining the native animal habitat.

So we'll be doing more searching at our sites for this and other weeds as well as planting more natives.

Upcoming events

• Florabunda Pocket at 7am on Saturday 6 November. Meet near the Rugby Club Building at the creek end of Laidlaw Rd, Woombye.

• Namba Creek at 7am on Saturday 20 November. Meet at the Model Railway Park off Florence St Nambour.

To join in the activities at these events you'll need to come in "long everything" bush protective clothing including boots/shoes and a hat. All tools required will be provided and we'll finish with a cuppa after whatever time you can spare for some exercise in the outdoor air.

For more info see the FB Page (search Petrie-CreekCatchmentCareGroup) and www.sunshinecoast.qld.gov.au (search BushCare Sunshine Coast) or contact Norm Morwood 0409 63 99 44 or email normmorwood@gmail.com

Improving the lives of people with Parkinson's

AN Australian-first Charity on the Sunshine Coast with a musical twist has hit the right note with the help of an Australian Government Grant to the tune of $7,800.

Restoring Hope Parkinson's Therapy (RHPT), an Australian Charity based on the Sunshine Coast, has started a choir, and uses the power of music as a therapeutic tool to improve the quality of life of people with Parkinson's.

"This fantastic local charity is not only restoring hope but is actively improving the quality of life of people with Parkinson's and that of their families," Federal Member for Fairfax Ted O'Brien said at a Flaxton Barn event.

"I know from personal experience the terrific impact this sort of treatment has, as my own dad had to live with Parkinson's for many years.

"It's the tenth anniversary of my father's passing this week and it meant a lot to me to be able to visit Restoring Hope and see the wonderful work that they do."

The Restoring Hope Parkinson's Choir is the first of its kind in Australia and was inspired by a trip to the Parkinson Voice Project (PVP) in 2019, by a small group of Sunshine Coast Speech Pathologists.

93 years later, Scouts recreate rail journey

IN 1928, when the Buderim tram ran daily between Palmwoods and Buderim, two Scouts set out early one Saturday morning to map the tramway route and enjoy a bush adventure. The boys were 14 year old Harry Krebs and his mate Bob Collins, both of Palmwoods. The exercise was a senior scouting challenge to earn a mapping badge.

Ninety three years later that feat was recreated by members of the Kawana Scouts. On Sunday 10 October Buderim Palmwoods Heritage Tramway welcomed six Scouts and their Cub Scout Leader for a guided walk along the heritage listed walking track and a visit to the original KRAUSS locomotive.

The event was arranged by young scout, Brock Adamson, to attain his Grey Wolf Badge, the pinnacle of the Cub Scout Section.

Brock's parents and brother joined the group to witness him taking up the challenge.

Thanks to Brock who took up a gold coin donation in appreciation for the BPHTI volunteers who participated, President Helene Cronin OAM, Kay Sinclair, Ann Lingard and Noel Williams.

Is saying 'yes' undermining your health?

by Rochelle Voysey, Rewilded Health

IT may sound strange, but it's a common theme I come across in clinic. All. The. Time. Setting healthy boundaries. It can feel a bit gross just thinking about it, hey? But we have to go there, it's pretty important.

We often think of self-care in terms of bubble baths, candles, music, and sunsets - and don't get me wrong, these things are wonderful.

But real self-care is work.

It's making yourself a healthy meal even when you're exhausted. It's going to bed on time even when you REALLY want to watch that next episode on Netflix.

It's getting up when your alarm goes off instead of hitting snooze 3000 times and then rushing to get to work on time. And, it's learning to say "no" to the things that don't support your health and wellbeing.

A lack of healthy boundaries can look like; saying "yes" to things you don't want to do to avoid feeling guilty or to gain approval, feeling pressured into getting involved or taking sides in others' (friends, family, co-workers) conflicts, allowing others to treat you badly in order to "keep the peace", repeatedly "coming to the rescue" for others' and being constantly "on call" for the next disaster.

Having healthy boundaries (or a lack of) is something we learn through the boundaries our parents or caregivers' model to us as children. Patterns of codependence, emotional enmeshment, guilt, and shame often travel with us through life, and are held so deeply within our subconscious they are often unrecognised - feeding into a perceived identity of being overly kind and caring.

This is important because by the time these gorgeous humans come to see me, they're completely overwhelmed emotionally, struggling with dysfunctional family/work relationships, are completely burnt out and carrying a lot of resentment.

They also typically have a long list of symptoms and diagnoses that appear completely unrelated (but often aren't), accompanied with unexplainable chronic pain.

If this resonates with you, it might be time to look a little deeper. What unmet needs are you filling with these unhealthy behaviours? Where do you need to start saying "no"?

Robyn Brown

Local gospel singer hits No. 1

NAMBOUR Jazz singer Robyn Brown was excited to learn last week that one of the songs from her latest album had reached No. 1 on the Australian Music Radio Airplay Project (AMRAP) Regional Charts.

The Regional Charts are a reflection of the most downloaded tracks through AMRAP that week by broadcasters in rural and remote locations.

"I received a message from a radio announcer congratulating me on reaching number one in the AMRAP charts," Robyn, pictured, said.

"I had no idea so I went to the AMRAP website to check. Sure enough, Up Above My Head, one of the songs from my new album, reached number 1 in the Regional Radio Airplay charts – not the metropolitan charts – this last week."

Robyn said Radio stations were able to pick up new Australian music from the AMRAP website. "I uploaded it and promptly forgot about it in all my busy-ness, so it was a big surprise to get the news!"

Bound for Glory: The Gospel Project is Robyn's latest release. It brings to life songs born out of slavery and racism.

Robyn also organises The Jazz Sessions, Nambour Winter Jazz Fest and the Sunshine Coast Jazz & Brews Fest.

Bound for Glory was released October 1 and is available on streaming platforms. The Album Launch concert will be held at 3pm on Sunday 31 October at the New Life auditorium, McKenzie Road, Woombye. Tickets www.stickytickets.com.au/TheJazzSessions.

Ignite Church Pastor Darin Browne outside the new Auditorium in Short Street: "Ignite is bringing a fresh, new approach to church".

Church Auditorium a shining light in the heart of Nambour

IN a climate of fear, Ignite Church is shining a ray of hope into the centre of Nambour.

Having outgrown its historic, 100 year old Chapel in Pine Grove Road, Woombye, the church is busy moving to new premises at Short Street for a November 14 opening.

Pastor Darin Browne said the Church was looking to fulfil what it believes is God's call to love and care for the people of Nambour and the Hinterland.

"Moving to Nambour allows us to fulfill our church slogan ... Real People, Real Community, Real God," Pastor Browne said.

"Ignite is about real, genuine people, creating a loving and accepting community, and allowing people's lives to be transformed by a real God."

The church has started a number of initiatives to care for the local community, including a strong association with Lily House, which provides a haven for single girls and young mothers on the Coast.

"Many of these girls and their families find a welcoming and accepting church family at Ignite Church," Pastor Browne said.

"Ignite is bringing a fresh, new approach to church that emphasises genuine community, great teaching and powerful worship. We offer a youth program, kid's church, counselling and life courses, and these are available to everyone in our community. Whatever your needs, culture or background, you will find a home at Ignite Church!"

▶ Ignite Church opens at 29 Short Street Nambour on November 14 at 9.30am.

Soprano Leslie Martin-Nightingale will perform Waltzing in the Clouds.

Arts Council presents 'feast of favourites'

THE Maleny Arts Council presents Gold and Silver featuring the Brisbane City Pops Orchestra, conducted by Adrian Head, soprano Lesley Martin-Nightingale and the Maleny Singers. The concert will be compered by Martin Daubney.

The program features the Overture from the much-loved Pirates of Penzance by Gilbert and Sullivan, as well as the beautiful Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana by Mascagni and a selection of some of the beautiful Dances from Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker ballet.

"It will be wonderful performance of well-known and treasured musical favourites. Lehar's Gold and Silver Waltz will have the audience humming," said Arts Council President Peter Lavery. "As will other golden oldies such as the lyrical love theme Shadow of Your Smile by Johnny Mandel and the sentimental favourite As Time Goes By."

Soprano Leslie Martin-Nightingale will perform Waltzing in the Clouds, made famous by Deanna Durbin, and the ever-popular Ciribiribin. Local favourites the Maleny Singers' performance will include the Chorus of the Hebrew Slaves from Nabucco and the Easter Hymn.

Compere, Martin Daubney will present a great Australian classic, The Man from Snowy River - with a little help from the orchestra.

▶ Gold and Silver will take place in the Maleny Community Centre at 2pm on Sunday 21 November 2021. Contact Claire Booth at malenyartsCouncil@gmail.com

HOT STONE MASSAGE

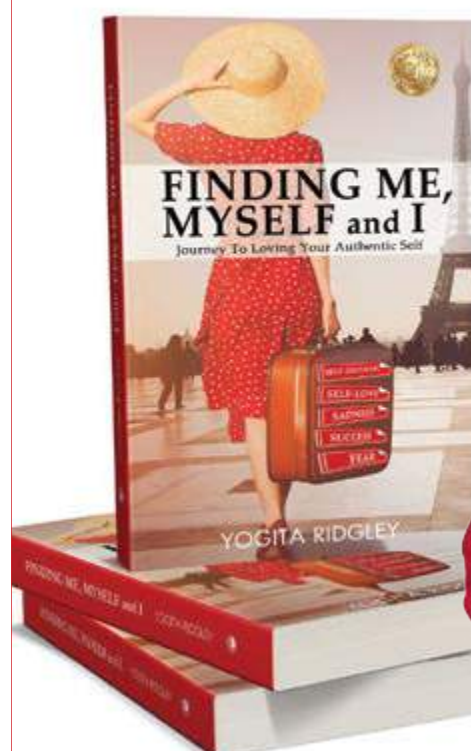

Hot stone massage is a very ancient technique used by body workers for thousands of years. Smooth Basalt (volcanic) stones are gently heated and incorporated into your full body massage.

Clinical studies have shown hot stone massage to be effective in improving sleep while many have reported a reduction in pain, anxiety, stress and felt improvement in deep muscle tension. A deeply warming, relaxing and restoring massage, especially during the colder months.

Agency provides values-based alternative

THE Purpose Real Estate team is passionate about property and the community and specialise in sales and property management, with a combined 50 years in real estate.

The team is excited and proud to be Finalists in the Sunshine Coast Business Awards, Social Impact category, and in the Real Estate Institute of Queensland (REIQ) Awards for Excellence in two categories: Contribution to the Community and Small Residential Agency of the Year.

The Agency was established in Nambour in 2017 as Queensland's first Social Enterprise real estate agency, with a unique point of difference.

Purpose Real Estate uses profits to create change in the community. Profits are directed to their parent company Coast2Bay Housing Group for projects such as short-term accommodation for women and children impacted by Domestic and Family Violence.

RISE II (Restart In A Safe Environment) is a combined initiative of Coast2Bay and the Zonta Club of Caloundra Inc. This initiative will benefit up to 20 women and 60 children each year from May 2022.

Profit goes to help women find accommodation

"In many ways we are just like other real estate agents, selling and managing properties," said Agency General Manager Lindell Gittoes.

"We're good at what we do, and we make a profit. The difference is what we do with our profit. Most businesses use their profit to create wealth for themselves, and that's ok ... but we believe there is a bigger picture in Australia."

Purpose works with Coast2Bay Housing Group to provide and manage affordable shared rental accommodation for women over 55.

Older women are the fastest growing group of people experiencing homelessness in Australia.

Lindell says this accommodation style has proved very successful. "It's been in operation for a few years, and especially over COVID the women really supported and helped each other out. The need is great and the accommodation is currently at capacity, with many enquiries received daily."

Their charitable status and unique philanthropic ethos is something

A genuine focus on community values

PURPOSE Real Estate is a social enterprise offering all of the services of a real estate agency, including property management and property sales.

The agency has a philanthropic mission to reinvest surpluses back into the community towards building affordable housing on the Sunshine Coast.

When you use their services your fees help them reach their goals, which gives back to support the cause.

"Choose a social enterprise and make a real difference in your community," said Agency General Manager Lindell Gittoes.

that no other real estate can offer.

Purpose Real Estate provides exceptional service and can assist with all your real estate needs.

If you are looking for a Property Manager to manage and care for your investment, a Sales Consultant to work with you to sell your home or buy a property, or just want to find out more about what we do, give the team a call.

Their belief is that the majority of people want to make a difference to their community and when you work with Purpose Real Estate, they make that possible.

Beautifully presented family living

AGENT'S CHOICE: 3 Old Davey Court, Coes Creek

THIS home shines inside and out having been meticulously maintained in impeccable condition.

It is located on a flat 647m² child and pet-friendly block with a fabulous dedicated firepit area and plenty of room for a pool.

The quality neighbourhood is within walking distance to local shops.

The four bedroom house has two bathrooms, central galley kitchen with walk-in pantry and two separate living areas.

It has a north-east facing alfresco patio, separate laundry, and double lock up garage with storage plus gated side access to bring in a boat / caravan.

It also features timber look flooring in living areas, plantation shutters in lounge, ducted reverse cycle air-conditioning, ceiling fans, security screens, separate shower and bath in main bathroom, stainless steel appliances and 2kW solar power; are some of the existing features worthy of note.

Alfresco entertaining is a way-of-life in Queensland, and this home 'nails' it - with its north-easterly patio, marvellous paved firepit area with built-in seating for toasting any occasion under the stars with a glass of bubbles, and masses of space for the backyard cricket and footy ... laughter, good times, memories!

Designed for easy-care living, you can reclaim your weekends, and spend time working through your 'bucket list'.

It is located in a quiet cul-de-sac in family-friendly Coes Creek, surrounded by contemporary homes and just 800-metres walk to Burnside Shopping Village.

Properties in this locale are in high demand and sell quickly - in this ultra-active market, first to act will be likely buyer.

Pinnacle peaks interest in CBD

NAMBOUR continues to capture the increasing attention of home buyers and property developers, according to Amber Werchon, Director of Amber Werchon Property.

Speaking on Friday at a pre-construction meeting at Pinnacle on Maud, Amber said buyers were keen to get in before the current property boom put the relatively-affordable Nambour out of reach. And Pinnacle on Maud, she said represented new levels of genuine value for money.

"For many buyers, Nambour has been hiding in plain sight. Our agency is in the unique position of having offices in both Mooloolaba and Nambour. There is enormous competition in the coastal areas, driving buyers from our coastal properties to enquire about listings here in Nambour.

"The opportunity to take advantage of this renewed interest has arrived with Pinnacle," said Amber. "Pinnacle on Maud is a landmark development in Nambour, that represents exceptional value and makes perfect sense to buy instead of continuing to rent."

With 40 two-bedroom units, Pinnacle brings a new style of dwelling into an area that has almost zero vacancy rates on rental properties.

Remaining units come with the option of a $455 per week rental guarantee from a third party, for buyers looking for investment purposes.

"We've had significant interest in this project from owner occupiers and investors alike," Amber said. "From first home buyers to empty nesters looking to cash in on their capital growth and downsize into a low maintenance lifestyle that has been developed and built by Gavin Wuiske, Frenchy Devos, Amber Werchon and Scott Harrison at the Pre-Construction meeting on Friday.

Grandview. With the reinvention of Nambour in full swing, it's logical that dwelling style starts to adapt to the changing nature of the township."

Strong incentives

Buyers are currently presented with even further incentive. First home buyers may be eligible for a $15,000 State Government grant and have more time to pay in a moving market.

"With reassurance the area is booming and strong incentives, it is time to consider the opportunity available in Nambour," said Amber.

With major healthcare and educational facilities, access to rail and the potential of a university campus, Amber said it was no wonder Nambour was on many buyers' radars.

Expert real estate analysts like Sunshine Coast local Terry Ryder, have also got their eye on Nambour. He considers it a good place to buy for both home-buyers and investors, noting it is very under-rated.

Regulated dog inspection program

Sunshine Coast Council will be undertaking a regulated dog inspection program between 1 November 2021 and 31 October 2022.

The purpose of the program is to conduct a compliance audit at premises within the region where dogs that have been regulated under the Animal Management (Cats and Dogs) Act 2008 are being kept. The Act requires local governments to manage regulated dogs within their boundaries.

The program will work to ensure animal owners are adhering to the mandatory conditions for keeping a regulated dog to reduce the risk posed by these animals.

A copy of the program is available on council's website. For more information contact council on 07 5475 7272 or mail@sunshinecoast.qld.gov.au

NYU celebrates triple-trophy season

NAMBOUR Yandina United Football Club is still celebrating a remarkable year in which it claimed three historic victories.

NYU Men's Premier League team broke a 47 year drought to claim their first Sunshine Coast premiership.

The Reds finished top of the table to lift the cup with a 7-2 win over Kawana before beating Noosa 6-3 on September 18.

Then, in the finals series the Women's Premier League claimed the Champions Trophy with a Grand Final win against Caloundra last Friday night (Oct 15).

The Premier Reserve Men's team followed their example to take out the Grand Final against Woombye a day later.

Promotion hopes dashed by Appollo on Gold Coast

Having wrapped up the Sunshine Coast Premiership Nambour Yandina United Premier Men's Premier League team travelled to the Gold Coast Friday night (October 22) vying for promotion to the Football Queensland Premier League 2 (FQPL2) Competition.

Unfortunately the Reds went down 4-1 after trailing 2-1 with just 5 minutes to go against Surfers Paradise Apollo at Underwood Park.

Surfers Paradise qualified for a spot in this weekend's final.

Technical director and midfielder Corey Nix said the game slipped away only towards the end because they were pressing so hard for the win and left their goal vulnerable.

"It was a valiant effort considering we had five players out and limited selection options," he said.

"Still we gave a great account for the club and for the Sunshine Coast and we'll be there again next year vying for promotion."

The chance at promotion came after NYUFC won its first Men's Premier League minor premiership in the club's 47-year history.

But the team's local Grand Final hopes were dashed when they were derailed in the semi 2-1 against Woombye.

Meanwhile, Woombye FC also contested the Men's Premier League grand final going down 2-nil to Kawana.

Left: It was a frustrating night for Woombye Football Club in the Men's Premier League grand final. The brave Snakes went down 2-nil to Kawana.

Grants Boost for Division 10 groups

David Law
Division 10 Councillor
david.law@sunshinecoast.qld.gov.au

Congratulations to the latest round of successful Major Grants applicants, who will share in more than $604,000 in council funding for 84 local projects.

Division 10 community projects that will receive a helping hand include Nambour and District Historical Museum Association Inc. - $5000 towards the installation and power of CCTV, Nambour Lind Lane Theatre Inc. - $7500 towards the purchase of blinds to the veranda area, Nambour Contract Bridge Club, Inc. - $2634 to update scoring technology, and Nambour and District Tennis Association - $12,692 for maintenance of the clubhouse.

Don't forget Minor Grants applications close November 2. For more information on all grants programs and how you can apply, visit www.sunshinecoast.qld.gov.au/Living-and-Community/Grants-and-Funding

Improvements in our community

You may have noticed Windsor Rd, Burnside, was recently resealed, making it a smoother and safer commute for everyone. Donaldson St, Nambour also has a new footpath as part of council's minor works program.

Check out St Joseph's latest hit

Congratulations to the talented Year 5 students from St Joeys, Nambour, who recently unveiled a funky rap song as part of council's Get Ready disaster preparedness campaign. Their colourful rap calls on locals to prepare for a disaster. The Get Ready rap reminds us in an engaging way, of the many different types of disasters and the importance of having a plan.

It's timely to ask yourself, do you have an emergency kit? If you're unable to leave your home for an extended period, this kit will equip your household for up to three days of isolation.

Some items to include are fresh water, non-perishable food, a first aid kit, portable radio and torch with batteries, mobile phone, charger and a power bank, important documents in sealed bags, cash, baby formula and nappies, and toiletries.

To watch and listen to the rap visit www.oursc.com.au/council-news/catchy-rhyme-released-to-promote-disaster-preparedness

Projects completed across Division 5

Winston Johnston
Division 5 Councillor
Division5@sunshinecoast.qld.gov.au

I'm pleased to see a range of projects wrap up over the last few months across Division 5. Montville State School has received a concrete parking area, Dinmore Street in Woombye received an upgraded bus stop and council has also undertaken footpath renewals along King and Bray roads, Mooloolah Valley and Woombye-Palmwoods Road, Palmwoods.

I am sure our community is enjoying the end results and I thank all residents for their patience while the works were undertaken.

Hunchy Road Rehabilitation

I'm pleased to announce works were completed on a notorious section of Hunchy Road, Hunchy last month.

The project team captured drone footage of the completed works which I think gives the community a clear picture of the extensive safety works carried out - visit my Facebook page to view some more aerial images and a video of the completed product!

The works undertaken include widening two tight curves to improve safety between Blackbutt and Hardings Road, rehabilitation works including strengthening the existing pavement and resurfacing Hunchy Road.

Major Grants success

On October 15 Council announced the successful applicants in its latest Major Grants program, with more than $604,000 supporting 84 local projects.

Congratulations to the following not-for-profit community groups within Division 5, including; Mooloolah Valley Community Association Inc, Lily House Fitness and nutrition program, Maleny and District Chamber of Commerce Inc, Sunshine Coast Motorcycle Club Inc, Montville Chamber of Commerce Inc, Palmwoods Bowls Club Inc, Maleny Community Centre Inc, Palmwoods Tennis Club Inc, Maleny Masonic Lodge and Sunshine Coast Chamber Music Festival Ltd.

Major Grants support community groups with project funding up to $15,000 (and up to $30,000 for infrastructure projects only), and Minor Grants support community groups with project funding up to $2,000. Applications for council's Minor Grants round close on 2 November.

Queensland Covid plan to unite families

Rob Skelton
State Member for Nicklin
nicklin@parliament.qld.gov.au

Premier Anastacia Palaszczuk has released Queensland's COVID Vaccination Plan to Unite Families, which will protect Queenslanders and chart a course through the next stages of the pandemic.

Key features include greater freedoms for those who are fully vaccinated including being able to cross the border from interstate hotspots in time for Christmas.

This will be achieved in cautious and measured stages once 70 percent and 80 percent of eligible Queenslanders are double-dosed.

In order to be protected by the time the borders open, you need to get vaccinated now.

Super Saturday School Vaccine Blitz

Thank you to 1262 people that came out on Saturday to get their vaccinations at one of seven school vaccination clinics setup the region.

As of the 25th of October, in the Sunshine Coast LGA 79.2 percent of people aged 15+ have received their first dose and 63.9 percent have received both.

In the Noosa LGA 81.1 percent have received their first dose and 65.9 percent have received both.

If we want to ensure our community remains safe as restrictions continue to ease, then the best way to protect yourself and your family is to get vaccinated.

Day for Daniel 2021 and Walk for Daniel October 29

Day for Daniel will be celebrated this year on October 29th.

It will be the first time I have participated in the Walk For Daniel as the local member, and I look forward to supporting the Morcombe Foundation in their ongoing mission to educate kids all over Australia to stay safe.

If you have some spare time in the morning on October 29th, I encourage you to get involved and join in the fun.

I look forward to seeing you there.

More information and safety resources are available online at www.danielmorcombe.com.au/

Quality assured prices? Here's hoping

Jeffrey Addison
Sunshine Coast Commuter Advocate

You may recall my last column began: A Department of Transport and Main Roads (TMR) analysis shows a rollingstock expansion of up to 65 extra six-car trains will be required over the next 10 years.

Fast forward to Wednesday 20 October at 10:43am where the Premier and Treasurer outshone the Transport Minister to announce a massive spend on 65 new six-car trains.

The Transport Minister, Mark Bailey tweeted the big news later at 12:19pm.

Limelight can mean darkness for others sometimes.

Maybe we'll finally get the nine daily trains that the Annastacia Palaszczuk government's Deputy Premier promised us in 2015, to arrive in 2016 (when the Redcliffe line was opened).

These trains were supposed to remove the 75 weekly rail-buses that clog 54km of our roads between Nambour and Caboolture, while pretending to be our trains.

That was another broken promise in the conga line of broken promises that we've faced over the past two decades.

That was another broken promise in the conga line of broken promises that we've faced over the past two decades.

Perhaps the state representative columnist to my left (see what I did there), might like to ask his Premier and Transport Minister why they never fulfil their rail commitments to our region?

We have been told or had planning documents state we would have rail to:

- Landsborough by 2012;
- Caloundra by 2015;
- Nambour by 2016;
- Maroochydore by 2020.

Given their record - can we on the Sunshine Coast ever believe anything they say?

That said - it really is good news that we are getting new trains and I thank the Government for their decision.

What concerns me is the announced investment cost of $7.1 billion.

I'm not sure how smart that is if you're trying to get the best price for the product.

It's like yelling out that you're going to build a $7.1 billion house and then wondering why all the tender prices you let come in at around $7.1 billion.

We know that the new trains are to be built in Torbanlea, a town 26km north of Maryborough.

The state government has selected the land and the Premier said there will be a $239 million purpose-built, publicly-owned, train manufacturing facility on the site.

It appears the state Labor government are going into BIG business.

We know the cost is to build and operate the trains and that will include a maintenance component for the life of the rollingstock.

The most recent $4.4 billion NGR train contract for example, includes a maintenance contract of 32 years.

If we subtract the $239 million factory from the $7.1 billion investment, that leaves a $6.861 billion cost.

Divide this figure by 65 six-car trains and they end up averaging $105.6 million each.

The NGR trains were part of a $4.4 billion overseas contract, and the 75 six-car trains averaged $58.7 million each, including their 32 years of contracted maintenance at Wulkaraka.

The three tenderers will be Alstom, CAF and Downer Rail.

The winner to be announced in the second-half of 2022.

Let's hope we get truly competitive prices.

Spring Road Trip coming up soon

Ted O'Brien
Federal Member for Fairfax
ted.obrien.mp@aph.gov.au

My team and I will be out and about across the electorate from Monday the 1st of November to Thursday the 4th of November as part of my Spring road trip. This is a fantastic opportunity for me to hear from you directly about Federal Government matters that are important to you and your town. This is a particularly special road trip as we will be promoting the launch of round seven of the Stronger Communities Programme. Destinations include Eumundi and Kenilworth on Tuesday, the 2nd of November. See my website at www.tedobrien.com.au for the full list of times and locations.

Stronger Communities:

The Australian Government's Stronger Communities Grants have re-opened and are available to local not-for-profit community and sporting groups. Grants from $2,500 to $20,000 are available for small capital projects (e.g. purchase of equipment, upgrades to facilities, etc) that improve local community participation and contribute to vibrant and viable communities on the Sunshine Coast. Previous iterations of this grant have made a huge contribution to local organisations such as Nambour's Suncoast Christian Care. The funding enabled the charity to purchase a $15,000 forklift which significantly reduced the amount of time that the low-cost grocery store needed to receive deliveries and organise their stockroom. Expressions of interest are now open for all eligible organisations.

Charity Support:

Restoring Hope Parkinson's Therapy Choir is another recent recipient of a Stronger Communities grant. It was a pleasure to meet the Choir at the Flaxton Barn recently to see the group in action at their first-ever in-person meeting. The organisation delivers a progressive voice therapy program designed to improve the quality of life of people living with Parkinson's.

As always, please get in touch regarding any Federal issues, concerns or enquiries on 5479 2800; via email at ted.obrien.mp@aph.gov.au.

Register for the Walk for Daniel

Andrew Powell
State Member for Glass House
glass.house@parliament.qld.gov.au

This Friday, I'll be participating in the 17th Walk for Daniel. It's a bit of a family tradition for the Powell clan and an important one at that. It gives us an opportunity to talk to our kids about their safety. The Walk officially starts at 6.30am from Suncoast Christian College in Woombye. It's best to park at Palmwoods Warriors Football Club on Jubilee Drive at Palmwoods and catch one of the shuttle buses that will be available from 5.45am. The event will be operating under COVID safe plan so please be sure to register at www.danielmorcombe.com.au/find-an-event/walk-for-daniel/ - hope to see you there!

A Footpath between Montville & Mapleton

As mentioned previously, I recently held one of my mobile offices at Flaxton. No surprises for guessing what the number one topic was - yep, finishing the footpath between Montville and Mapleton. Last week I met with representatives of the Lions Club of the Blackall Range and Cr Winston Johnston to discuss how to make a start. The project is ambitious and challenging ... and likely to be very expensive. The two sections are steep, there is very little road reserve and some difficult geology. But where there is a will, there is a way. The 2032 Olympic and Paralympics also provide us with an opportunity to deliver this "missing link" but to make the most of that we will need to get our plans together. Cr Johnston and I are making initial inquiries as to what would be involved. We will keep you posted on developments.

Vanilla made right here in the Hinterland

Plover family adopts tiny chick 'Downunder'

from Donna Brennan Wildlife Volunteers
WILVOS 5441 6200 www.wilvos.org.au

MASKED lapwings, commonly known as plovers, are often a source of calls to the WILVOS Hotline at this time of year. We've made a special effort this year to reunite plover chicks, and other species, with their parents, rather than them coming into care. It can be a time-consuming process but it is a joy to see with any wildlife. Besides those animals that come through our WILVOS Hotline, we also appreciate the time taken by wildlife facilities and vets in assisting us in the reuniting process by getting address details.

"Downunder" happily joined his new family

Often with plover chicks, the last one to hatch has trouble keeping up with the rest of the family. They can be left behind, later to be found in a weak state. They usually perk up quickly with warmth and nutrition.

Unlike many other young birds masked lapwings don't need to be hand-fed. If they are slow to start pecking at their food there are always a few tricks to get them going. Little bantam chicks soon show them how to pick up from the ground. Earthworms and insects in shallow water soon have them snapping up the bugs! Tapping on the ground with a couple of chopsticks held up beside the chicks even works. Well, they look a little like the parents legs! Wildlife carers become very inventive.

This week, one little plover named "Downunder", found a new family once he regained his strength. He went from 20 to 40 grams in a matter of days. Then the search was on for a family to adopt him. Incredibly, the adult plovers are quite happy to accept new chicks if they are about the same size as their own. "Downunder" happily joined his new family and his carer could not tell which chick was him. A perfect scenario. All our wildlife are special, and we are very lucky to still have them around.
